

LONGMAN
HISTORY OF MODERN EUROPE

REVOLUTIONARY EUROPE 1780–1850

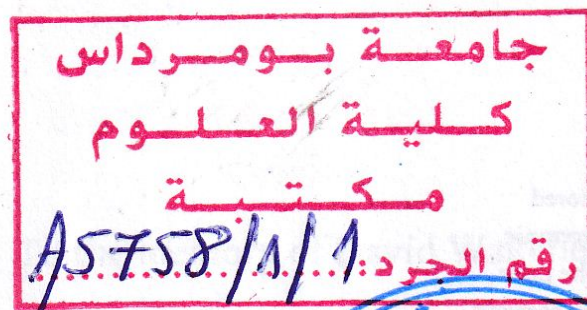

JONATHAN SPERBER

REVOLUTIONARY EUROPE, 1780–1850

JONATHAN SPERBER

University of Missouri

جامعة بومرداس
كلية الآداب و اللغات
مكتبة الكلية

1783

رقم الجرد: 1/1/15758

جامعة بومرداس
كلية الآداب و اللغات
مكتبة الكلية

الشفرة: 316.423.31

01e*

An imprint of Pearson Education

Harlow, England · London · New York · Reading, Massachusetts · San Francisco · Toronto · Don Mills, Ontario · Sydney
Tokyo · Singapore · Hong Kong · Seoul · Taipei · Cape Town · Madrid · Mexico City · Amsterdam · Munich · Paris · Milan

CONTENTS

List of Plates	x
List of Maps	xi
List of Tables	xii
Acknowledgements	xiii

Introduction: The Age of Revolution seen from the Twenty-First Century	1
---	---

1. Europe at the End of the Old Regime	9
A society of orders	9
An economy of scarcity	21
A culture of confessionalism	28
Absolutism and Estates; authoritarianism and anarchy	36
Rules and exceptions	42
The trials and tribulations of reform	46
2. A Decade of Revolution: France, 1789–99	58
The significance of the French Revolution	58
The last crisis of the old regime	60
From crisis of the old regime to revolutionary situation	62
Popular violence and the institutionalization of the revolution	65
Reforms and political polarization: 1789–91	74
A further revolution: inflation, war and the republic	82
Foreign war and civil war	86
The Reign of Terror and the republic of virtue	92
The high point of the Jacobin regime and its end	99
The Thermidoreans and the problem of ending the revolution	101
The Directory and the end of representative government	105

[viii]	3. The French Revolution and Europe	110
	Not just in France	110
	Initial impressions	112
	Hardening lines and polarizing attitudes	113
	Revolutionary warfare	117
	The war of the first coalition	121
	Revolutions in the 1790s: domestic and imported	123
	Jacobins on their own: revolutionary movements in Poland and Great Britain	130
	The war of the second coalition	140
	4. Napoleon's Europe	147
	Napoleon and the French Revolution	147
	The conqueror	149
	The administrator	152
	The reorganizer of Europe	160
	Successes and failures; supporters and opponents; nature and character	171
	Characterizing Napoleon's rule	177
	Outside the Napoleonic orbit	181
	The end of the Napoleonic order in Europe	189
	The Spanish war	189
	The Austrian war of 1809	192
	Prussia and its reform movement	194
	Crisis and reorganization of Napoleon's empire, 1809–12	199
	The invasion of Russia and downfall of Napoleon	201
	Thinking about the era of the French Revolution	204
	5. Social and Economic Change, 1780–1850	208
	The lash of Parson Malthus	209
	Growing numbers and responses to them	211
	Farming and farmers	215
	Crafts and manufactures	222
	Long-term trends (1): Structural change	233
	Long-term trends (2): Change over time	243
	Three national variations on a theme	250
	6. The Shapes of Public Life, 1815–50	265
	The system of international relations	266
	The nature of the state	270
	The structures of civil society	276
	The ideologies of political action	291
	The cultural dreams of totality	306

CONTENTS

7. In the Shadow of the Past, 1815–32	323	[ix]
An age of epigones	323
The Restoration that began with a revolution	325
The first cycle: conflicts and clashes after 1816	328
The revolutions of 1830 and the end of the Restoration	348
8. Old Certainties and New Vistas, 1830–51	363
Picking up the pace	363
Containing the 1830 revolution	365
Conspiracy, insurrection and repression	370
The challenge of the Chartists	371
Heading for a revolution: continental Europe in the 1840s	377
Crisis years, 1845–47	392
The revolutions of 1848	397
9. The Age of Revolution in European History	422
How revolutionary was the age of revolution?	422
Looking forward: from the age of revolution to the second half of the nineteenth century	428
Annotated Further Reading	432
Index	459	