

The Play of the Double

in Postmodern
American Fiction

Gordon E. Slethaug

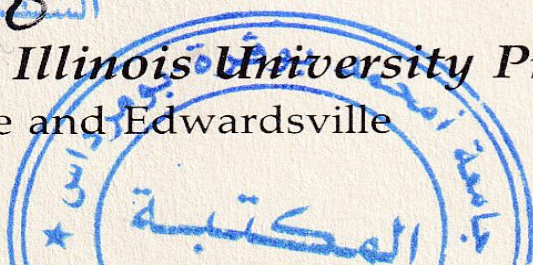

The Play of the Double in Postmodern American Fiction

Gordon E. Slethaug

Southern Illinois University Press
Carbondale and Edwardsville

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Prescript: Rewriting the Double 1

1. The History of the Double: Traditional and Postmodern Versions 7

2. Analogy and the False Double: Nabokov's Despair 33

3. Binary Intersubjectivity: Pynchon's Gravity's Rainbow 52

4. Eros and Thanatos: Hawkes's Blood Oranges 93

5. "Neither one nor quite two": Barth's Lost in the Funhouse 121

6. Minimalism, Metadoubles, and Narcissism: Brautigan's
Hawklime Monster 151

7. Surfictive Games of Discourse: Federman's Double or Nothing 167

Postscript: Re-viewing the Double 187

Notes 201

Bibliography 215

Index 227